Safety measures in connection with the AGM due to covid-19

Evolution Gaming cares for the health of our shareholders and employees. Due to the risk of spreading the covid-19 infection, Evolution Gaming is taking certain steps to minimize this risk.

The general meeting will be kept as short as possible, and no food or drinks will be offered. Furthermore, the general meeting will be recommended to pass a resolution that no guests, or others who are not legally entitled to attend the general meeting, are allowed to be present at the general meeting venue. Evolution Gaming's board of directors, management and other employees will only attend to the extent required.

In order to reduce the number of participants at the general meeting, Evolution Gaming recommends the shareholders to, if possible, exercise their voting rights at the general meeting by voting in advance by so called postal voting pursuant to the Swedish Act (2020:198) on temporary exemptions to facilitate the execution of general meetings in companies and other associations.

Evolution Gaming closely monitors developments and, if necessary, additional measures for the general meeting will be published on its website.

VOTING BY POST

In order to reduce the risk of spreading the covid-19 infection, Evolution gaming will give the shareholders the possibility to vote via remote access by post. A postal voting form will be available on Evolution Gaming's website at www.evolutiongaming.com. If a shareholder wish to exercise his or her voting rights through postal voting before the annual general meeting, the completed form, including any annexes, shall be received by Evolution Gaming not later than 15 June 2020. If the shareholder is a legal entity, a valid registration certificate or other equivalent authorisation document must be enclosed with the form. The same applies if the shareholder is postal voting through a proxy.

The shareholder cannot give any instructions other than by marking one of the stated alternatives, "Yes" or "No", for each item of the form. If the shareholder has added special instructions or conditions in the form, or amended or added to the pre-printed text, the vote will be invalid. If the shareholder wishes to abstain from voting in respect of any item, do not mark any box for such item.

Only one form per shareholder will be taken into consideration. If more than one form is submitted, only the most recently dated form will be taken into consideration. If two or more forms have the same date, only the form received last by Evolution Gaming will be taken into consideration. Incomplete or incorrectly completed forms may be disregarded.

If the shareholder attends the annual general meeting (itself or by proxy) the postal vote will not be counted since it is assumed that the shareholder will exercise its rights while attending the annual general meeting.

SHAREHOLDERS WITH NOMINEE REGISTERED SHARES

To be entitled to participate in the general meeting or vote by post, those having their shares registered in the name of a nominee must, in addition to giving notice of attendance, have their shares registered in their own name so that he or she is registered as a shareholder in the share register kept by Euroclear Sweden AB on Thursday 11 June 2020. Introduction

These guidelines apply to remuneration to members of the senior management and to board members who have entered into an employment or consulting agreement with a group company. For the purposes of these guidelines, the senior management includes the managing director and certain other senior executives who, from time to time, report to the managing director.

General remuneration principles

The objective of the guidelines is to ensure that the Company can attract, motivate and retain senior executives with the expertise and experience required to achieve the Company's operating goals. The remuneration shall be based on conditions that are market competitive and at the same time aligned with the shareholders' interests. Remuneration to the senior management shall consist of a fixed and, for some senior executives, variable salary. These components shall create a well-balanced remuneration reflecting individual competence, responsibility and performance, both short-term and long-term, as well as the Company's overall performance.

These guidelines do not apply to any remuneration resolved upon or approved by the General Meeting and are only applicable to remuneration agreed, and amendments to remuneration already agreed, after the adoption of these guidelines by the Annual General Meeting 2020.

In order to comply with mandatory rules or established local practice, remuneration of employees subject to rules outside Sweden may be adjusted however taking into account, to the extent possible, the overall purpose of these guidelines.

Types of remuneration

The remuneration covered by these guidelines may consist of fixed cash salary, variable cash salary, pension and other benefits.

Principles for fixed cash salary

The senior executives' fixed salary shall be competitive and based on each senior executive's individual competence, responsibilities and performance. A review of the fixed salary shall be carried out on an annual basis for each calendar year.

Fixed cash salary may not amount to more than the total remuneration, which is the case if there is no variable cash salary, pension benefits or other benefits.

Principles for variable cash salary

Board members who have entered into an employment or consulting agreement with a group company shall not be entitled to any variable cash salary.

Variable cash salary (i.e., cash bonuses) to senior executives shall be based on a set of predetermined and measurable performance criteria for the relevant senior executive aimed at promoting the Company's long term value creation. The performance criteria may be individualised, quantitative or qualitative and are to be established and documented annually. The extent to which the criteria for awarding variable cash salary have been satisfied shall be determined when the relevant measurement period of the criteria has ended. The remuneration committee of the board of directors is responsible for the evaluation of the variable salary to the managing director. The managing director is responsible for the evaluation of the variable salary to other members of the senior management.

Any variable salary may not amount to more than 50 per cent of the total remuneration and 100 per cent of the annual fixed salary.

Principles for pension benefits

Some of the Company's senior executives are entitled to receive pension benefits in accordance with local practice or collective agreement provisions. Pensions shall be premium defined. Variable cash remuneration shall not qualify for pension benefits unless required by mandatory law or collective agreement provisions.

Premiums and other costs relating to such benefits shall amount to not more than 30 per cent of the annual fixed salary.

Remuneration during period of notice and severance pay

Fixed cash salary during notice periods and severance payment (including any payments for restrictions on competition) may not exceed, in aggregate, an amount equivalent to the fixed cash salary for 12 months.

Principles for consultancy fees to board members

To the extent board members perform work for the Company outside the scope of the ordinary board work, consultancy fees on market terms may be paid in addition to any board fees resolved upon by the general meeting.

Warrant-related incentive programmes

Remuneration resolved upon by the general meeting is not covered by these guidelines. Accordingly, these guidelines do not apply to any share related incentive programs resolved on by the general meeting, including the 2020/2023 warrant programme adopted by the extraordinary general meeting on 16 January 2020 or the 2018/2021 warrant programme adopted by the annual general meeting in 2018.

Preparation and review of the compliance of these guidelines

These guidelines have been prepared by the remuneration committee and approved by the board of directors. When evaluating whether these guidelines and the limitations set out herein are reasonable, the board of directors (including the remuneration committee) has considered the total income of all employees of the company, including the various components of their remuneration as well as the increase and growth rate over time.

The remuneration committee shall monitor and evaluate programmes for variable remuneration for the senior management, the application of these guidelines as well as the current remuneration structures and compensation levels in the company.

The members of the remuneration committee are independent in relation to the company and the senior management. The managing director and the other members of senior management do not participate in the board of directors' handling of and resolutions regarding remuneration-related matters if they are affected by such matters.
